Biography

Veneta Anand-Ogarro is a compassionate community pharmacy leader, with over 25 years' experience. She is dedicated to improving patient care, breaking down barriers, and advancing the profession.

As Senior Director of Rx Commercial Strategy and Payor Relations at Neighbourly Pharmacy, she leads thoughtful pricing strategies, improve access to care for specialty patients and fosters strong partnerships that support both access and sustainable pharmacy operations. She is passionate about championing the role of pharmacy and ensuring patients—especially those in remote communities—receive the care they deserve.

Beyond borders, Veneta has founded a Registered Charity focused on providing medical and social development support to underserved populations around the world. The ultimate goal is to strengthen communities in their pursuit of better health, by allowing pharmacists to work to their full potential.
